STOCK NEWS

Makes Three Purchases of Cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Burns, of Dallas, returned to their home Friday afternoon after a week's stay in San Angelo. While here Mr. Burns bought for himself three lots of cattle, aggregating a total consideration of $1,720. He bought from W. E. Trammell 3 cars of speyed heifers at $10.50 around. These heifers make unusually fine beefs. From Jim Gregg, Mr. Burns bought 3 cars of fat cows at $18 around, and from W. E. Tippet 3 cars of fat cows at $16.25. Part of these cattle were shipped to Dallas and some to Fort Worth Friday.

Big Concern After Steers.

A. T. Albright, representing the ranch interests of the Texas and Pacific Coal company, of Thurber, Texas, arrived in San Angelo last Thursday afternoon. Mr. Albright is buying steers for his extensive concern, one of the wealthiest companies in the state. He remained in San Angelo until Saturday. He failed to find any steers, present delivery, and left Saturday morning for Thurber.

Everybody Works but Father.

Everybody works about the house but father, when it comes to the furniture, carpets and window shades. I want the people of this city to know that I have opened a first-class repair shop, where I do upholstering and re-furnishing of all kinds of furniture to look like new. Carpets renovated and relaid. I simply mention a few of these things to let you know I am here. Promptness and neatness is my motto, and I want you to give me a trial on your drapery, packing and shipping. I build box couches, window seats, book shelves, and, in fact, do everything about the house to relieve the madam. Located two doors east of Paschal's Market. Phone 742.

Orlent News From Chihuahua.

By the end of this month, says the Mexican Herald, Arthur E. Stilwell, president of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient, will play the host to another trainload of capitalists but this time his guests will be from the other side of the ocean. His train will arrive here over the Mexican Central during the last week of November and on December 4, will leave for the United States over the National.

For some months Mr. Stilwell has been in Europe where he is said to have had considerable success in interesting men with money in his plan for the development of Mexico's northwest. For two years he has been bringing trainloads of American capitalists to Mexico. In each case there has not been overlooked a detail that might contribute to the pleasure of his guests and of course, never has the president of the Orient neglected to show them that portion of the road already built and to show them the advantages of such a route. His method has not been bad as an advertisement nor has it proved a bad means of placing stock. But those men whom he will bring to Mexico this winter will not be brought here so much to induce them to become stockholders in the railroad as to induce them to invest money in land, mines and industries along the route of the Orient. According to reports given out by the officials of the road the time has now come when there is more necessity for looking after the development of the country and thereby providing for local traffic than for disposing of stock.

It is reported that most of Mr. Stilwell's guests this year will be from England and that they are men whose names are well known in the financial world.—Chihuahua Enterprise.

Bought Another Automobile.

E. E. Bailey, the land man, bought last week from E. R. Ames, a twenty horse power, 4 cylinder, Mitchell touring car at private figures. The car originally cost $1,500, and is a good one. It will carry five passengers, enabling the new owner to take a quartet of land prospectors around at a time.

Death of Jeff Breazeale.

Our town was indeed shocked Tuesday morning when the report reached here from Burnet that Jeff Breazeale was dead. He was a brother to our fellow townsman, Clint Breazeale, and visited our town quite often. He had been sick with pneumonia for some time, which was the cause of his death. He was one of Burnet's oldest citizens and was highly respected by all in that town. Both the deceased and his wife have many relatives in Llano and the whole town extends sympathy to the bereaved relatives. The remains were laid to rest in the Burnet cemetery Tuesday afternoon.—Llano News.

Mr. Breazeale was the father of Mrs. F. E. Olive and Jeff Breazeale of San Angelo. They left last week for Burnet to attend the funeral.

Biggest Liar of All.

A number of drummers were waiting for a train at the station and as usual, got to spinning yarns—fish stories, hunting stories and other kinds, when one spoke up who had heretofore been a listener, and asserted that he could tell a bigger lie than any man in the crowd had told or could tell. He was given the floor, and his story was short but all yielded the palm to him. He said: "The Santa Fe west bound was on time the other day all along the line."—Ballinger Ledger.

The "Chicken Limited," as she is known in San Angelo, alias the "Old Sister" at Brownwood, arrived in San Angelo on time about twice during November. We are not joking either—it's a positive fact, however extraordinary the assertion may seem. Federal court could not be held here on the day set last week on account of the "Chicken Limited" being five or six hours late; a number of wealthy stockmen from North Texas, who started all the way to San Angelo to attend the Bismarck Farm sale of registered Herefords, intending to make several purchases, arrived in this city two or three hours after the sale had been concluded. The service West Texas is getting is indeed superb (?) to hear drummers tell it as they get off a train five hours late.
